There are three mistakes that bad players make and all three are correctable.

Here they are listed below and then provided with a simple plan of correction.

1. They Play Too

Many Hands

Their starting high range is too broad from all positions.

They came to the poker room to play; and by golly, they are not about to fold a hand that could turn into a winner. This fact is valid in all positions and on all betting rounds.

Here are some examples:

Pre-flop middle-position. A couple of players have called the $3 large blind.

They routinely call too.

Flop. Late

position.

They called an unraised hand pre-flop with Ks9s. The flop is Ah9h6s. An early position player bets $20. One caller. They are last to act and call.

River. They are in early position with AhKs. They raised $12 pre-flop and got two callers.

They donk-bet the flop and the turn, for $20 and $35 respectively and got two callers each.

It is now the river. The board is QdJc6s6dKd. They bet $35, get called, and then raised to $70. They call, figuring they are pot committed.

Simply put,

they need to tighten their range. Be bold at first. Tighten severely, just to get an entirely different perspective on how to play the game. In early position, narrow to JJ+ and AK,

and only play for a raise. In middle and late position, add a calling range of 22+ and suited Aces.

Do not expand it any more than that and see how your game changes.

2. They

Play Too Passively

They are calling and not raising. Even with premium holdings

, even
